Re: Infringement of John Deere's GATOR Trademarks (Our Ref: DEER TC-0807080)

Dear Mr. Jackrel:

We represent Deere & Company ("John Deere"). For more than fifteen years John Deere has used its well-known GATOR trademark and related marks (collectively, the "GATOR Marks") in connection with a wide variety of motorized utility vehicles and battery powered riding toys. Through our client's significant investment of time, money and effort, the GATOR Marks have come to represent enormous and valuable goodwill.

In addition to its substantial common law rights, our client owns several trademark registrations for its GATOR Marks throughout the world, including U.S. Reg. No. 1,798,626 of GATOR for "all-terrain motorized cart weighing under six thousand pounds for use in material transport," U.S. Reg. No. 1,756,713 of an alligator design for "all-terrain motorized cart for use in material transport," and U.S. Reg. No. 2,853,350 of PRO GATOR for "heavy duty utility vehicles for commercial and industrial use." These registrations are valid, subsisting and in full force and effect and serve as conclusive evidence of our client's exclusive right to use its GATOR marks in connection with the goods identified therein. Copies are enclosed for your reference.

Our client recently learned that your company is using the GATORMOTO mark and trade name, as well as a logo prominently featuring an alligator, in connection with the sale of scooters, go carts, golf carts, electric vehicles, and various other motorized vehicles and has applied U.S. Trademark Application Serial No. 77/307,349 seeking registration of GATORMOTO for "Scooters; Go carts; Low-speed electric vehicles." Given that your
